FOREWORD

In a good magazine each page must be the best possible. Similarly we hope that each chapter in your school life has been the best to make the whole nearer the perfection we all hope to attain.

Therefore we, the editors of THE 1955 HARVESTER, present to you, the student body and faculty, this book of memories. Turn these pages and review the chapters of your school life. Remember everything you did; remember each person, whether he was a leader or a follower; remember everyone who helped to give Liberty High School its soul.

Agnes and Margaret

The Staff proudly DEDICATES this 1955 edition of THE HARVESTER to Mr. W. J. Harlan. His untiring efforts in the many years he has so efficiently served Liberty High School have won him a place of respect and admiration in the hearts of everyone.

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

TO THE STUDENTS OF LIBERTY HIGH SCHOOL -

Every person must have an objective in life. Many of us may not achieve the goal that we have established, but the mere fact that we may strive toward it gives us a great deal of satisfaction and self assurance.

Some of us will choose as our goal political achievement; some, financial security; but to all there must be one common goal before there can be any personal satisfaction in success. The common goal is pride of spirit. Our accomplishments must be unblemished by an action that might promote our own welfare at the expense or sacrifice of others.

May each of you strive to achieve this pride of spirit.

Sincerely,

W. G. Barber

W. G. Barber

MRS. VIRGINIA CRAVENS
Secretary

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

Each year the Harvester Staff strives to produce the best annual that Liberty High School has ever had.

This is the attitude with which all of us should face every task set before us.

Such an ideal can lead only to a fuller, richer life.

A lesser goal will lead to complacency and deterioration.

Consider the alternatives soberly. Make your decision courageously.

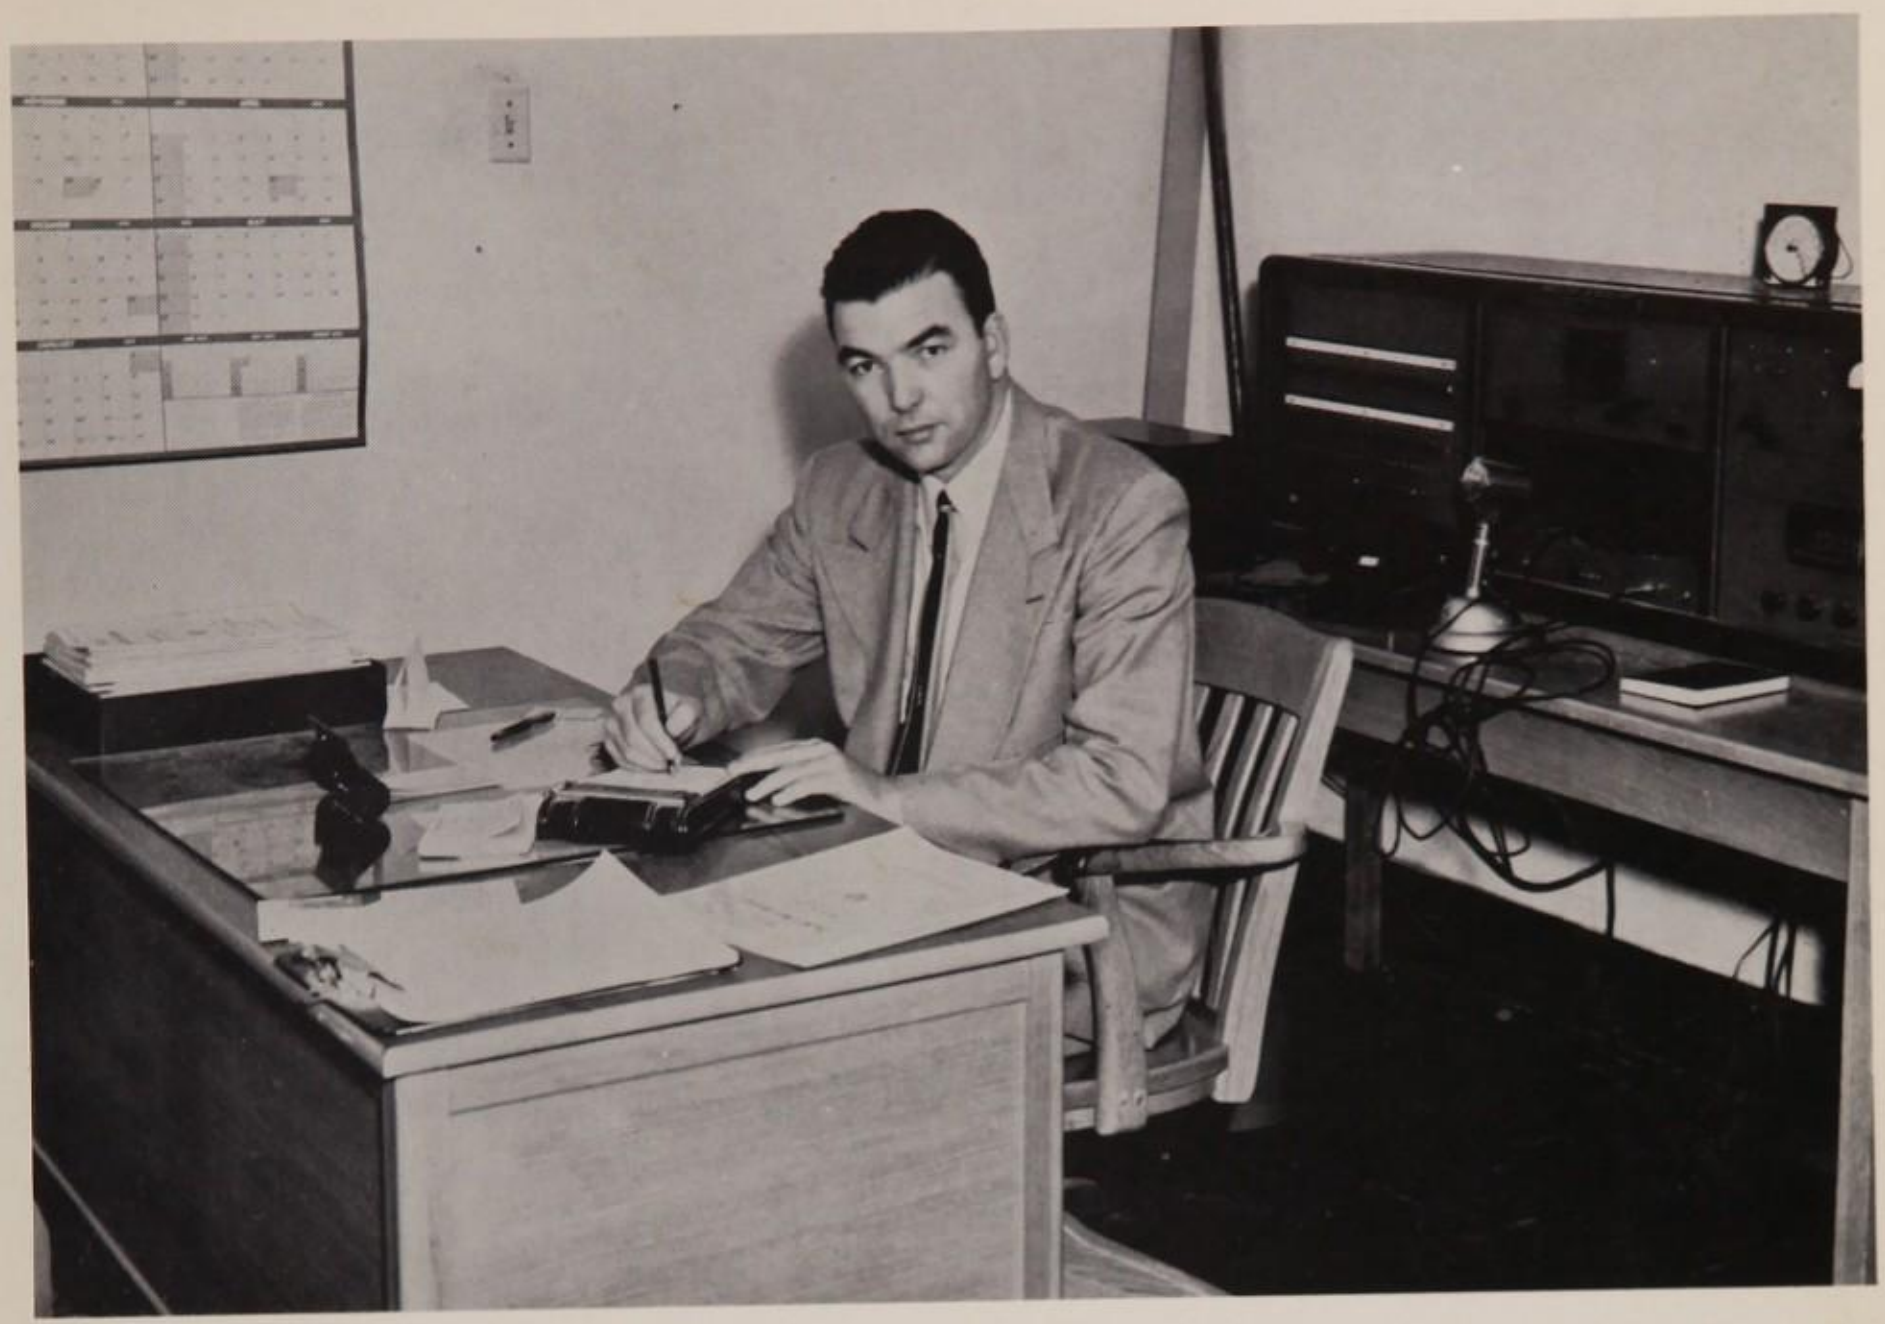
Accept the challenge!

Sincerely,

W. J. Harlan

W. J. Harlan

PRINCIPAL



Life is a series of promotions for those who strive to achieve. The vision to labor to exceed one's present standard of accomplishment is what makes progress in this world. This is the challenge that inspires the youth of today to study seriously in order to assume their proper places in society.

Sincerely,

M. J. Leonard

SCIENCE

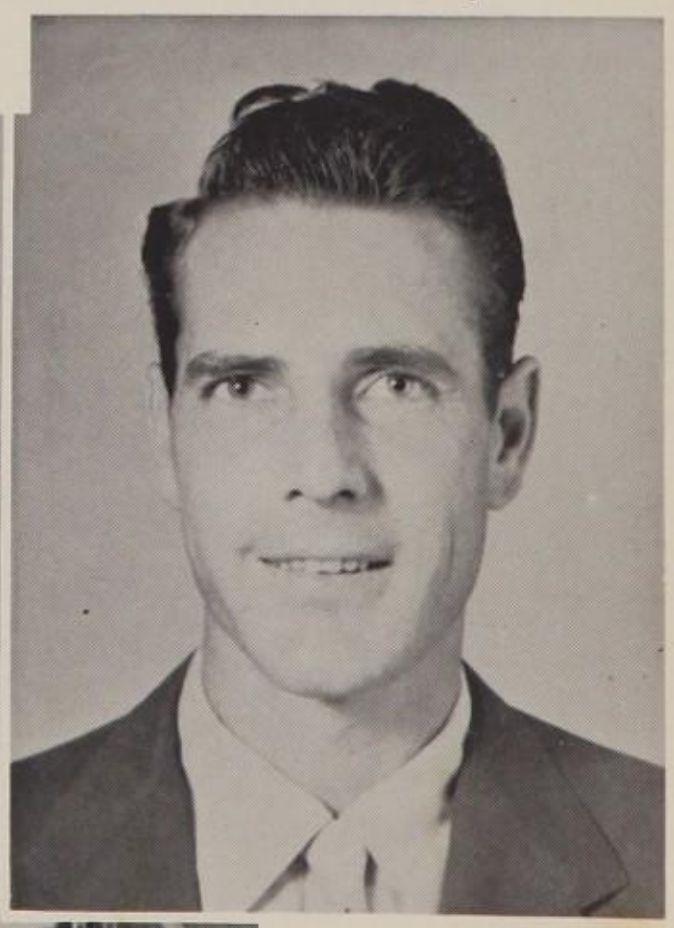
Assistant Principal, Science

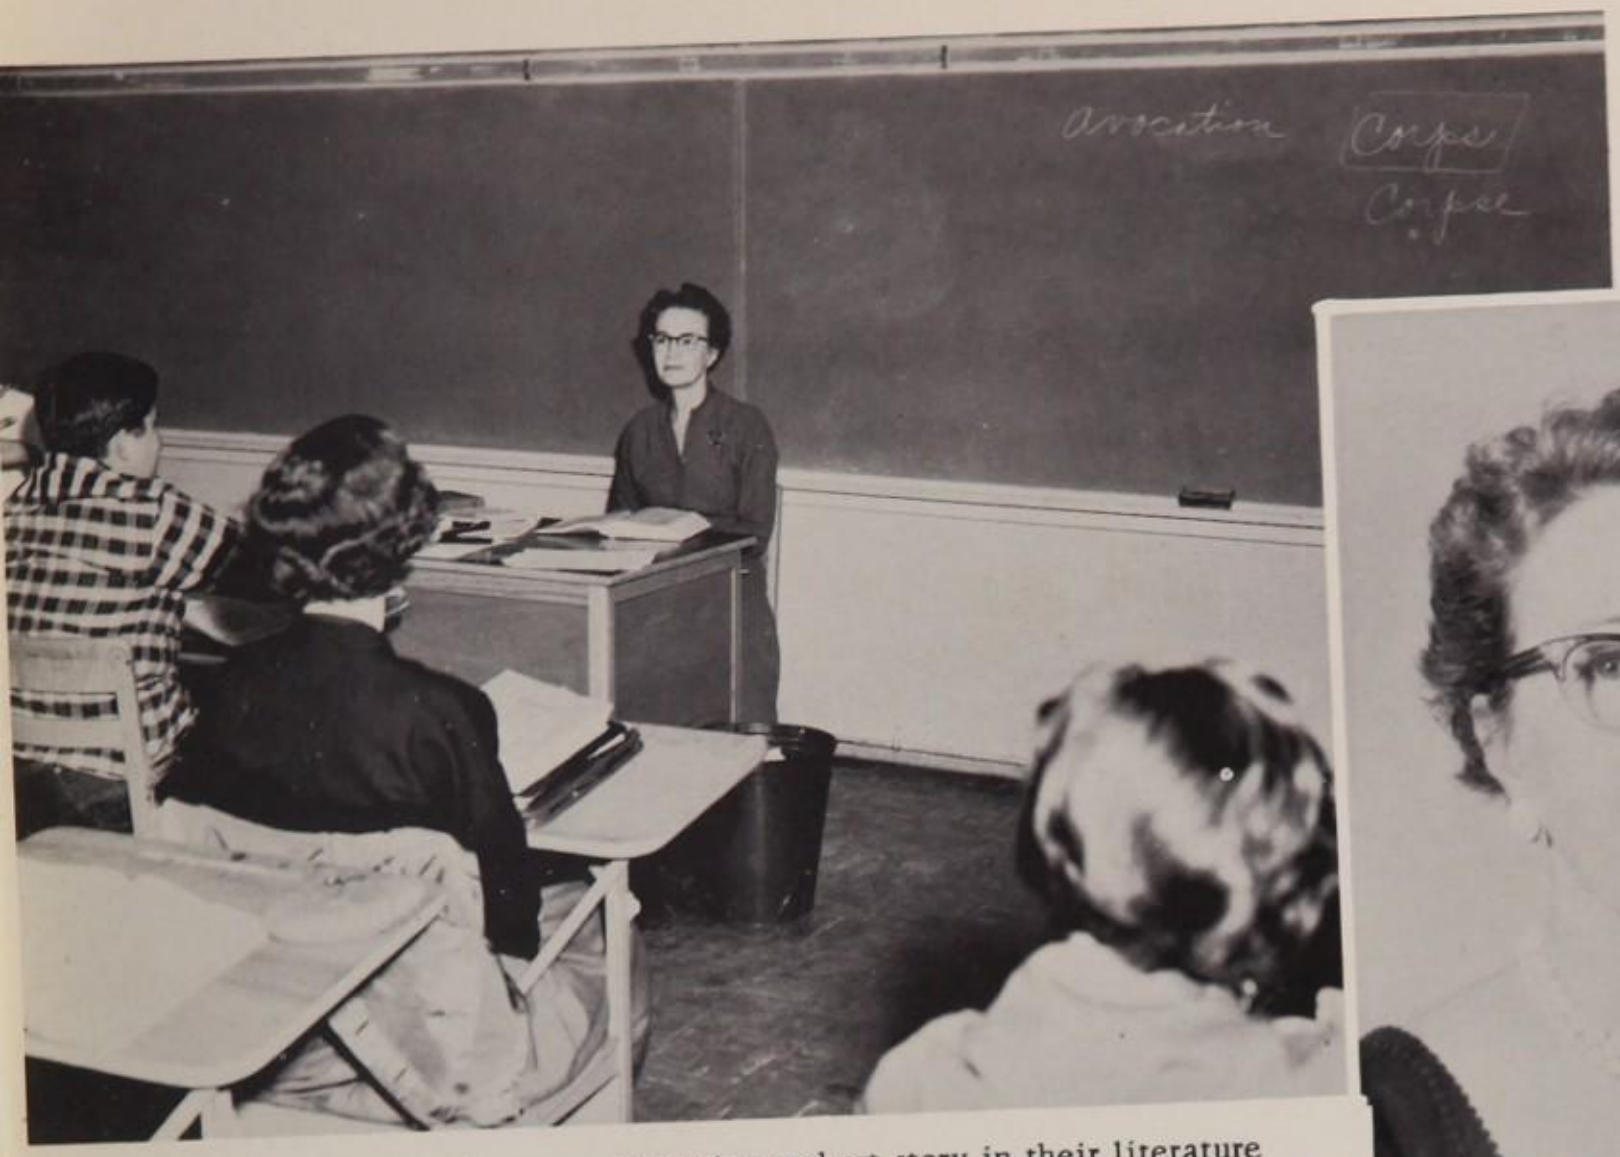
Pity the poor feline that finds his way into the hands of physiology students. Under Mr. Adam's direction, these students are making good progress in the dissection and study of this specimen.

HERBERT BOWDEN
Science, History

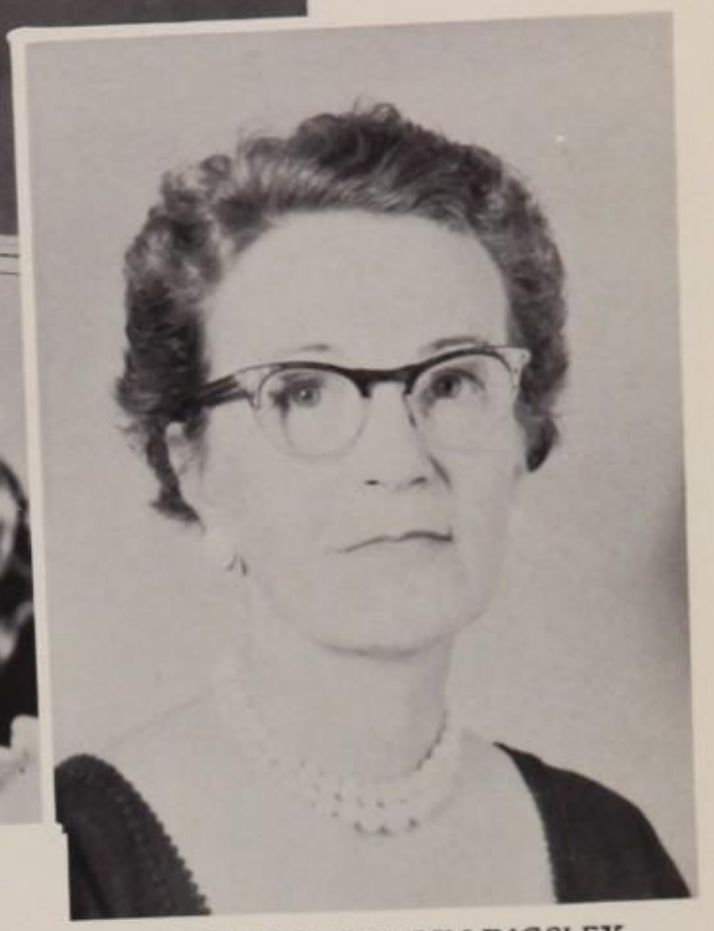


The mysteries of static electricity are a bit easier to understand after class demonstrations with this static electricity generator.

ENGLISH



These English I students are discussing a short story in their literature course. The words on the board "corps" and "corpse" are confusing them.



MRS. VIRGINIA BILLINGSLEY
English

MRS. A. J. McGUIRE
English

"But Mrs. McGuire do we have to know all those authors first names too?" This question has been asked many times by students taking English Literature.

SPANISH — SPEECH

Class discussions on Spanish customs like the pinata add interest and give us a better understanding of our "amigos al sur."

MISS OLLIE WOOLSEY
Spanish, English

If you walked by the speech classes at the first of this year, you might have heard phonetic sounds as the students were learning the correct pronunciation of simple and difficult words. Shown above, Mrs. Martin is dictating notes from which the class derives speeches.

MRS. D. MARTIN
P. E., Speech

COMMERCIAL — JOURNALISM

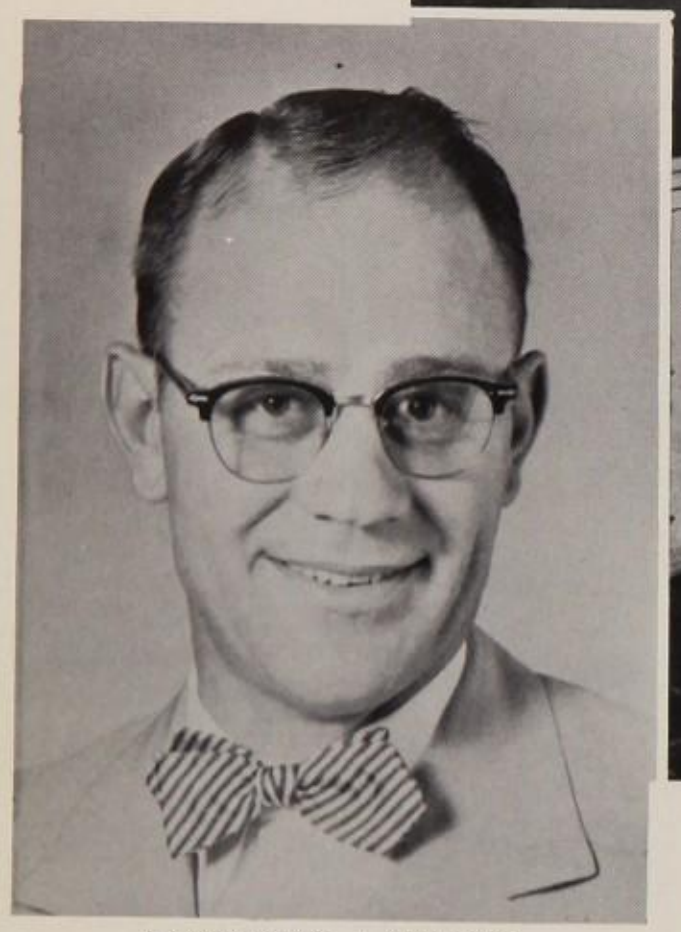
Greater speed with accuracy is the goal set for Typing II students. Good co-ordination of mind and fingers is required to attain this goal.

LESLIE E. FOSTER
Commercial

MRS. W. R. BILLINGSLEY
Journalism, History

By-lines to write, deadlines to meet, interviews to make--all are problems of the new journalism class in Liberty High School. This new course has helped give L.H.S. a bigger and better newspaper.

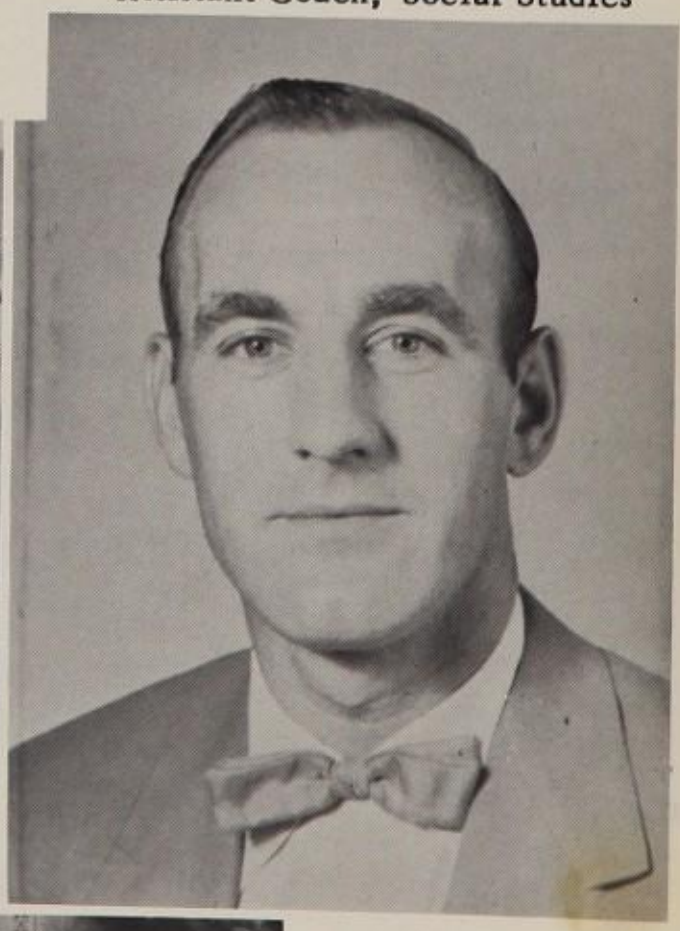
SOCIAL STUDIES



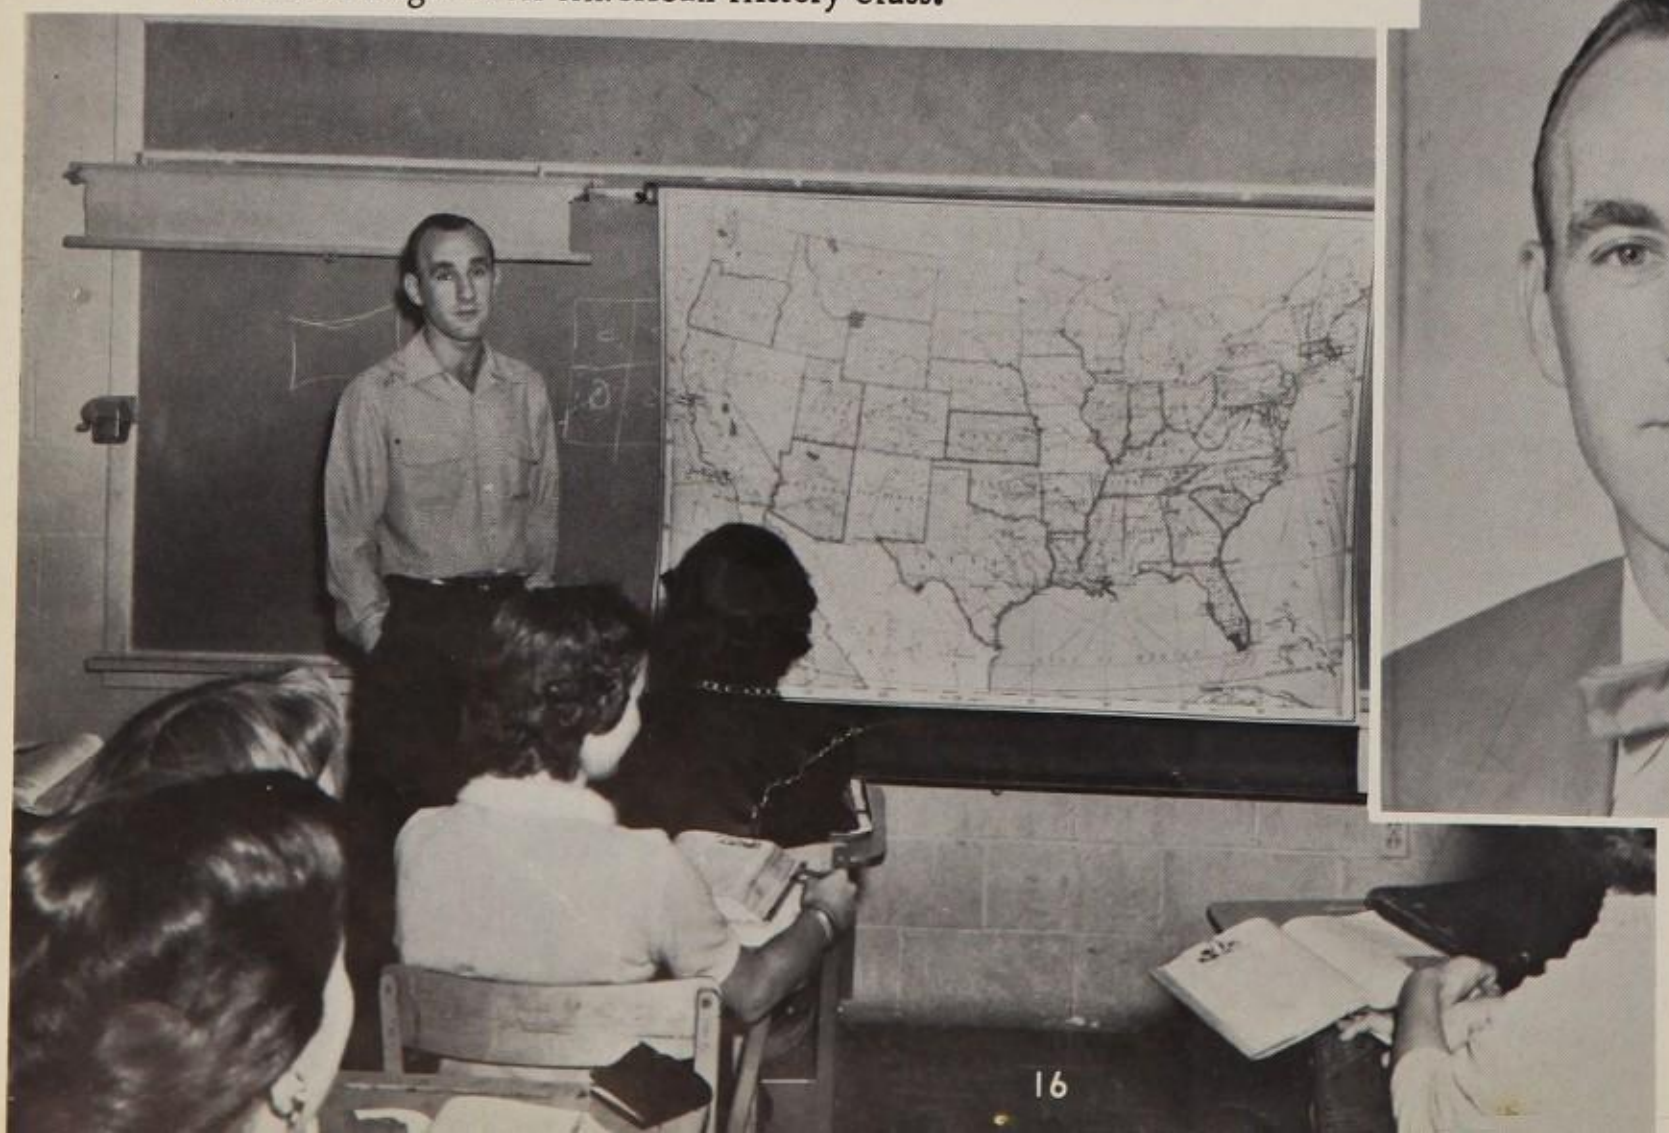
MARVIN W. LAMPERT
Coach, Social Studies

C-I-V-I-C-S, as everyone should know, is a branch of political science which deals with rights of citizenship and the duties of citizens. Coach stresses in his daily classes this fact, which he hopes will better each student in his future life as a citizen of his community.

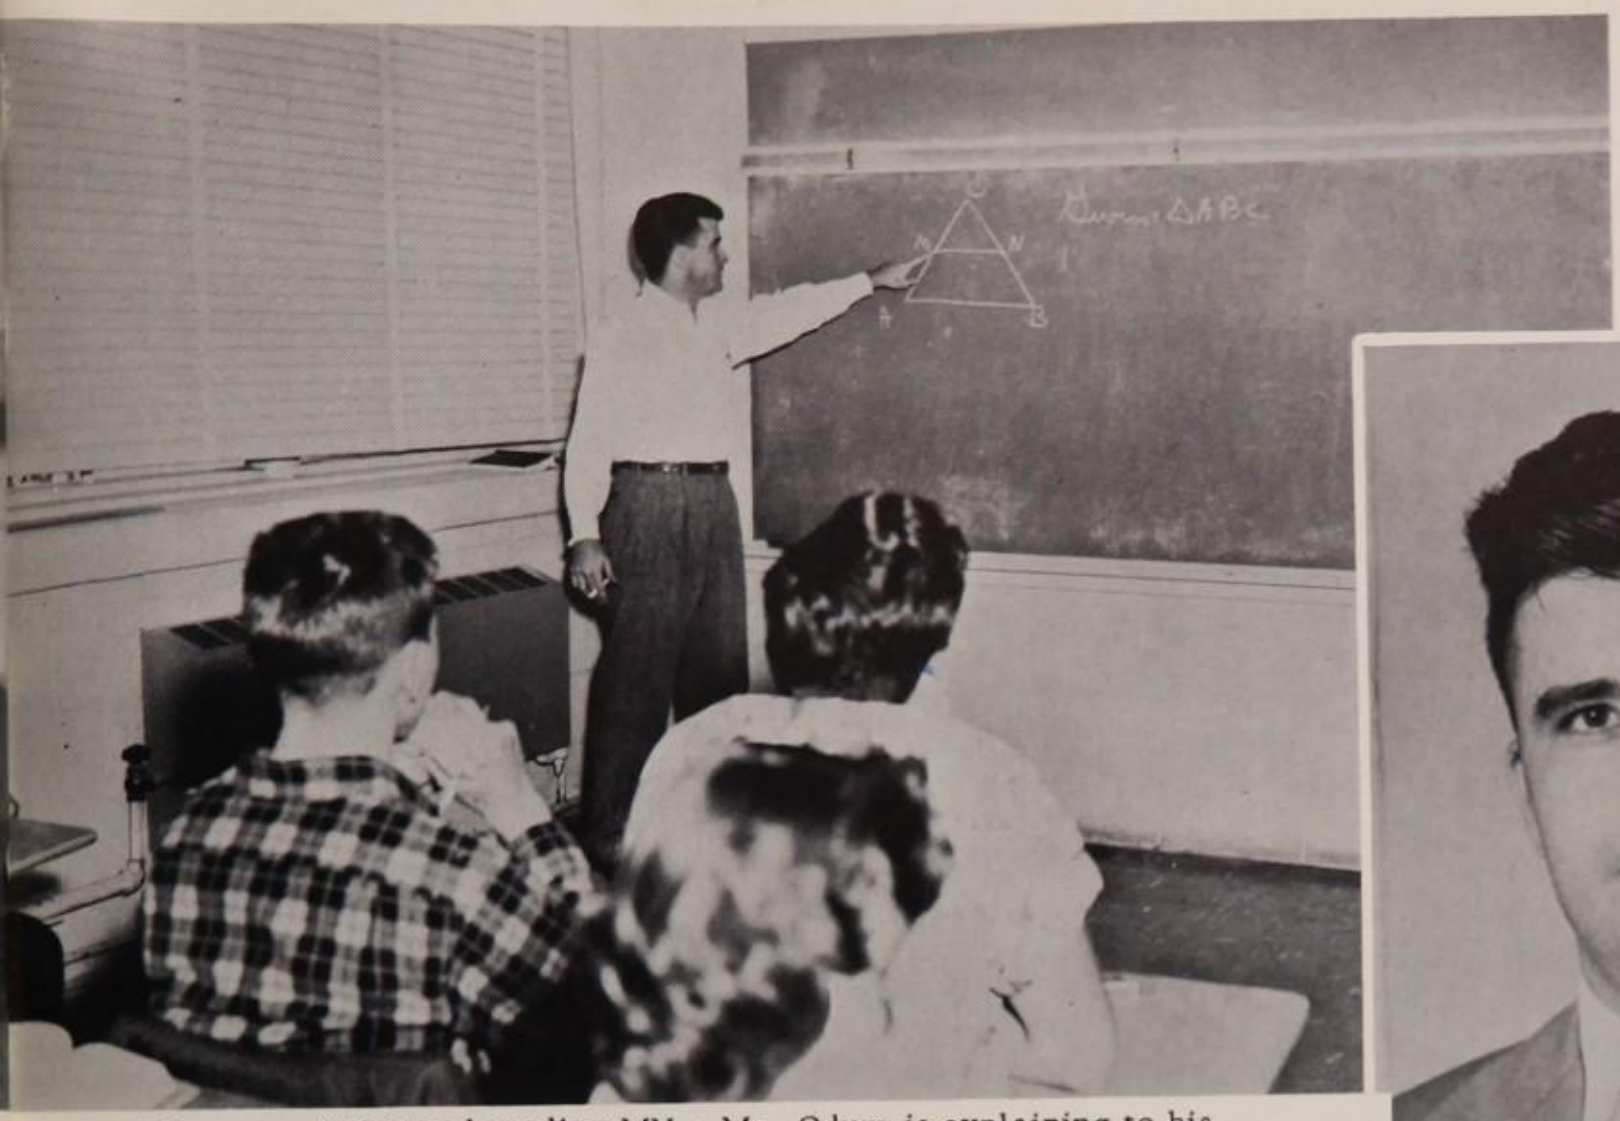
DON HUGHES
Assistant Coach, Social Studies



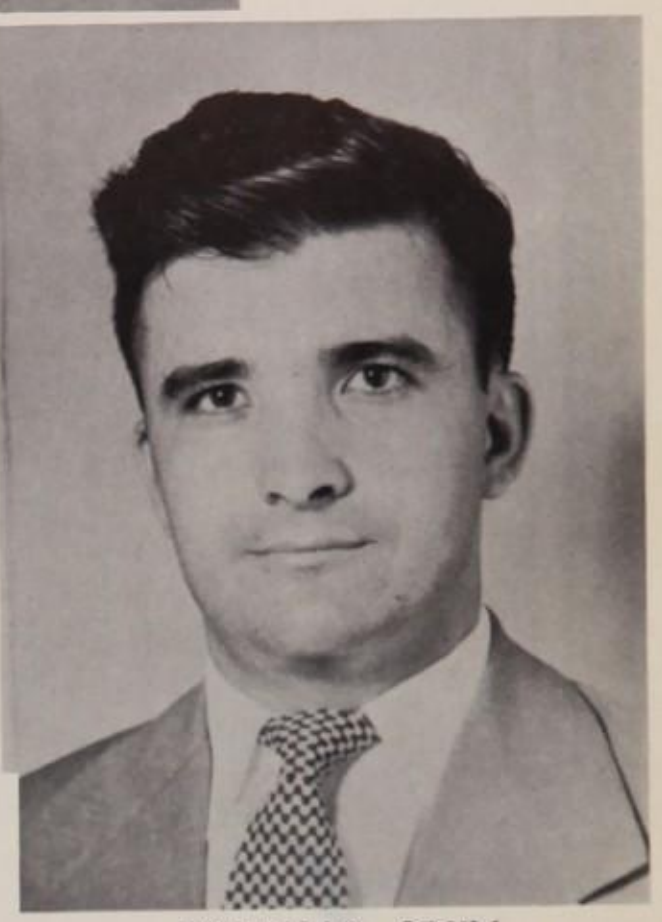
"Well, son, those test grades weren't too good." Yes, these Juniors will never forget their American History class.



MATHEMATICS — JUNIOR BUSINESS

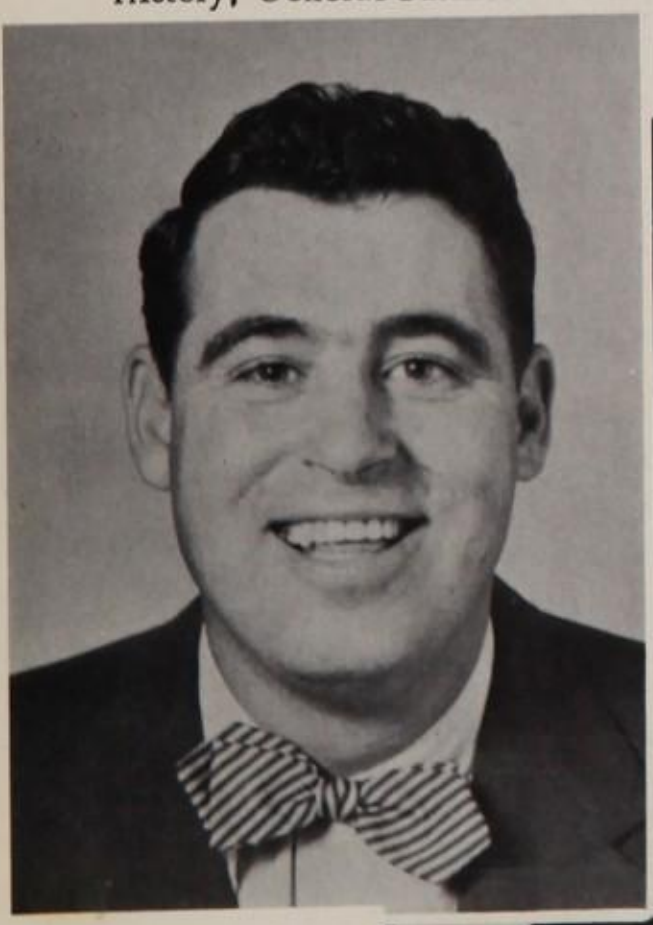


Given: A B C and median MN - Mr. Odum is explaining to his plane geometry class how to find the length of the median of a triangle.



WILLIAM F. ODUM
Math

JOE S. HAWKINS
History, General Business



Coach Hawkins is teaching these general business students the proper management of a budget which will help them to learn the value of each dollar they spend.

VOCATIONAL

MRS. R. E. BIGGS
Homemaking

A cup of sugar, 2/3 cup of milk. . .it all looks so easy when Mrs. Biggs demonstrates it but many a homemaking student has different ideas when trying the recipe on her own.

CECIL FINLEY
V.A.

Do you know how to dehorn cattle? You could learn if you took V. A. Mr. Finley is demonstrating a modern electric dehorner.

LIBRARY — MUSIC

Student librarians under the supervision of Mrs. Gainey, the head librarian, are responsible for the well-managed library.

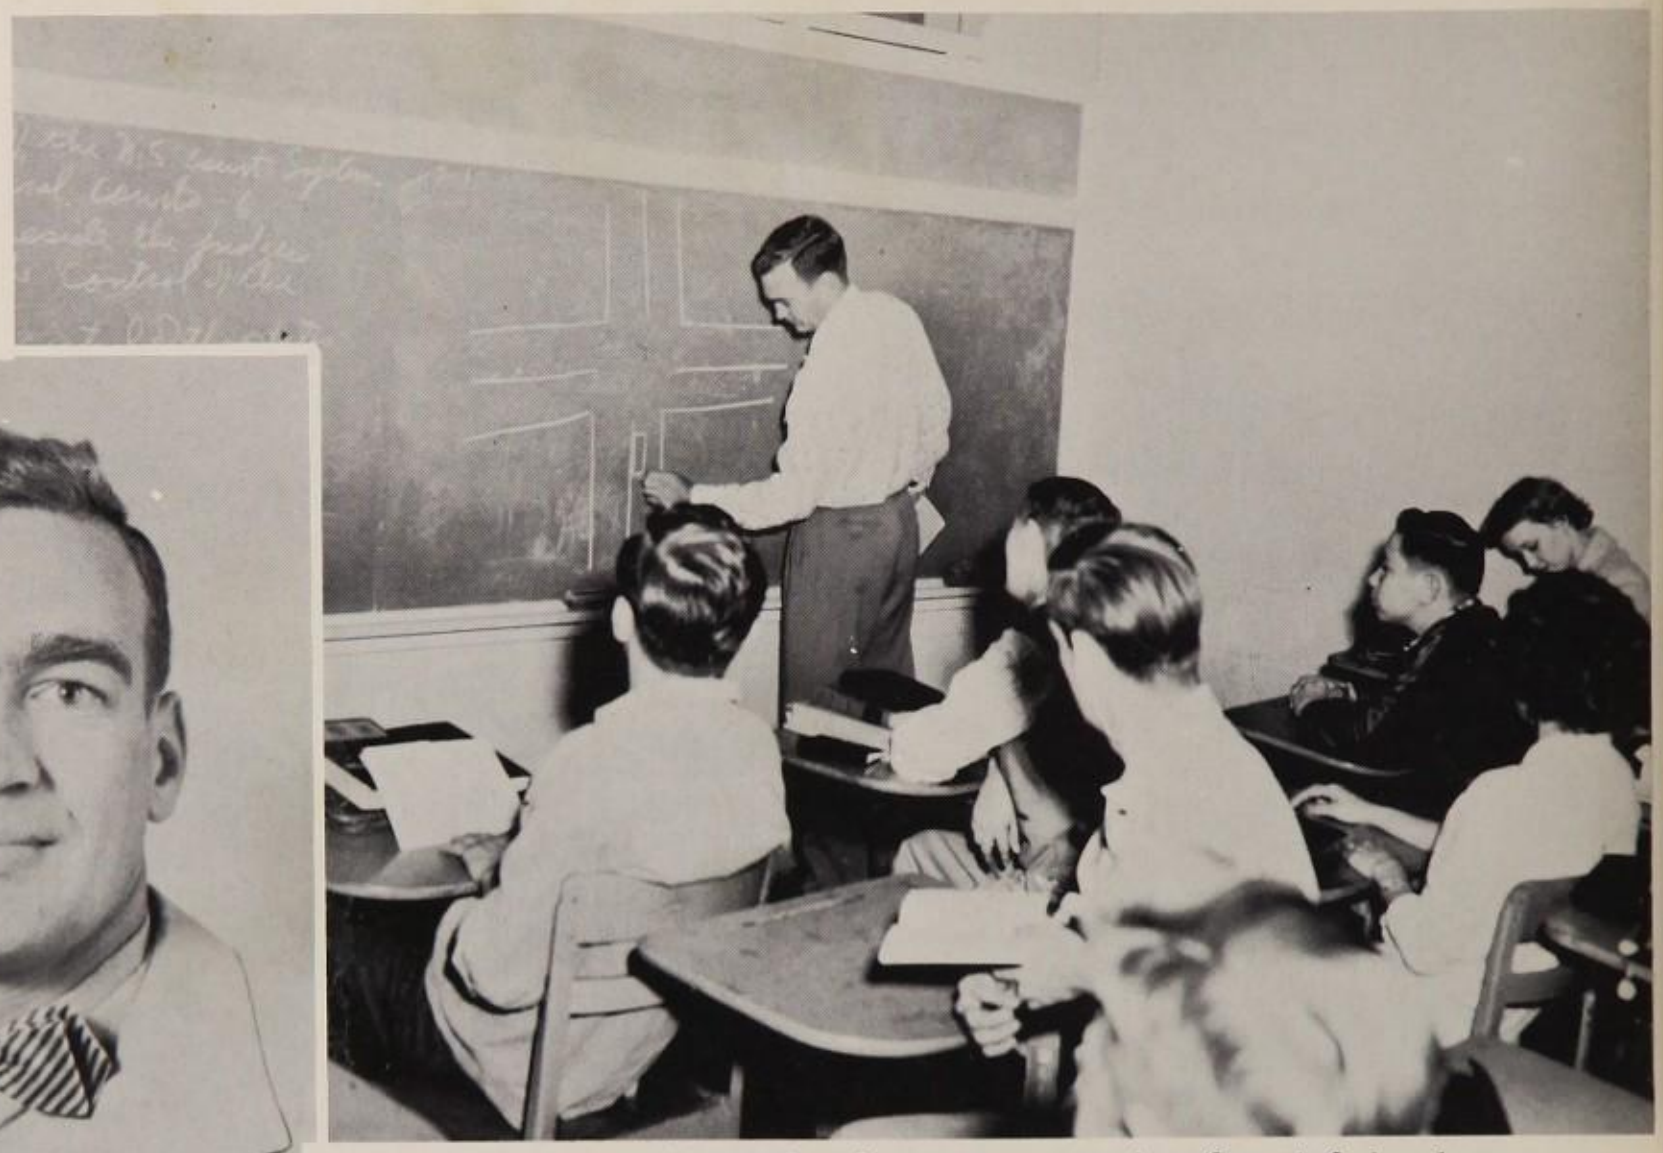
MRS. A. GAINEY
Library

JULIUS VASSALLO
Band, Choir

The L.H.S. choir and band under the careful direction of Mr. Vassallo have added much attraction to the activities of this school year, with their concerts, contests and tours.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION — STUDY HALL

ADRIAN B. COOLEY
Math, Drivers' Education



Mr. Cooley is illustrating the correct procedure for a left-hand turn when approaching an intersection. This safety rule along with many others will make these students good drivers in the future.

MRS. L. C. BLAKE
Study Hall

This is the place to catch up on lessons, read your library book, work on your research theme and enjoy the latest periodicals-all under the direction of Mrs. Blake.

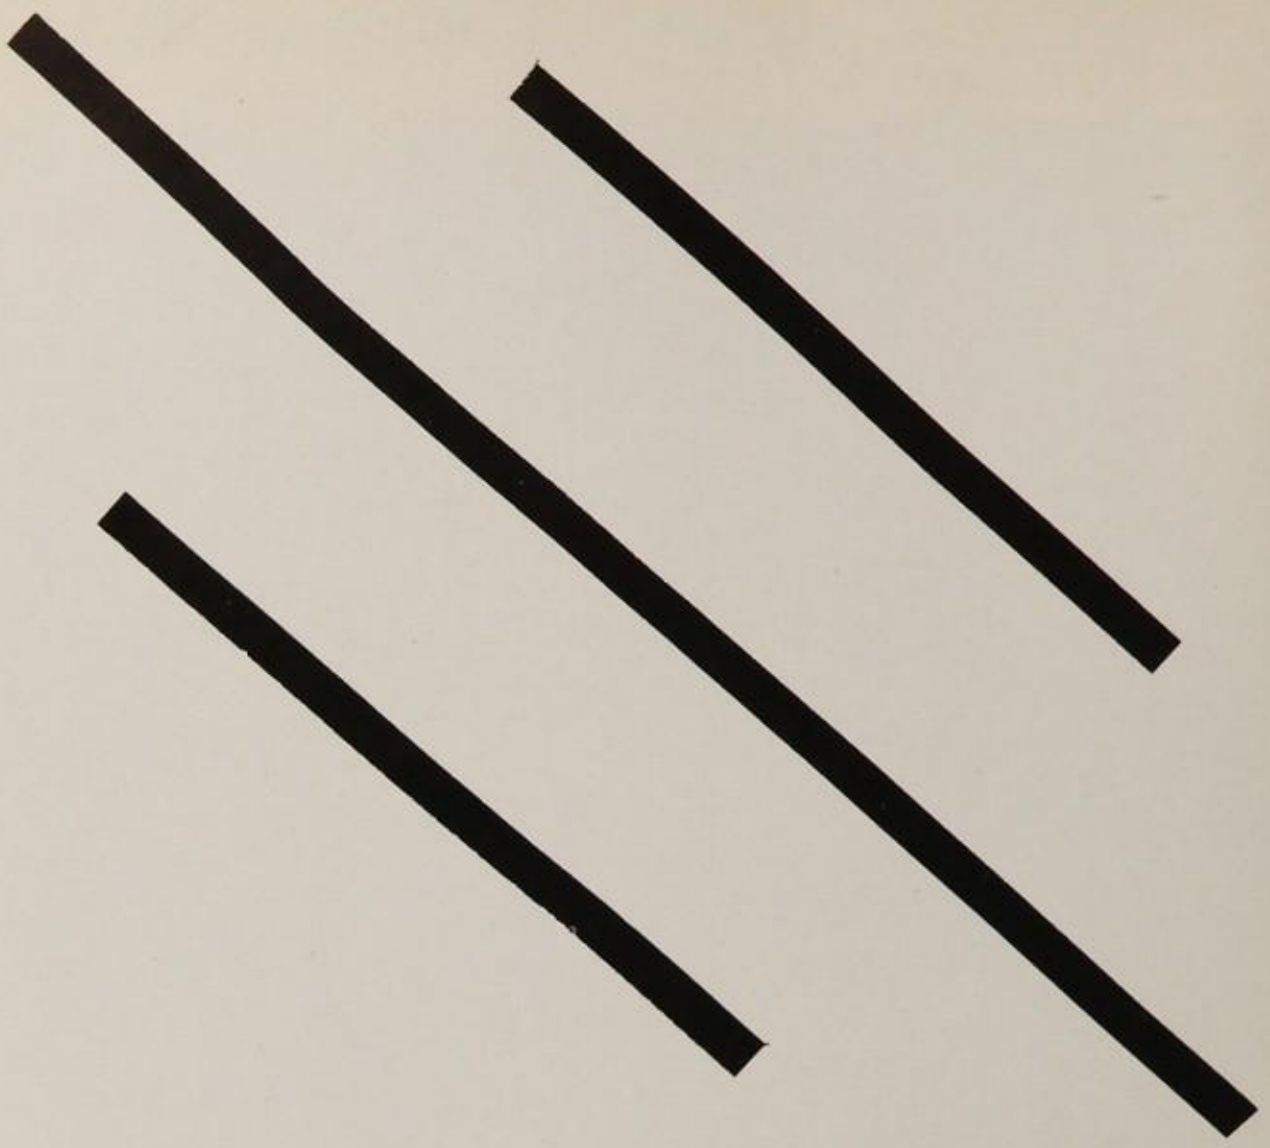
JOURNALISM

MRS. D. W. SYPHRETT

Journalism

Mrs. Syphrett entered Liberty High School at mid-term. As a late-comer, she was faced with the difficult job of taking over another teacher's class. We think she has done a wonderful job.

A scene from the annual School Board Dinner



The remembrance of each Senior as he passes in review for the last time, the Juniors who are next to stand in the most cherished place, the graduating line, the Sophomores learning step by step what it means to be a part of L. H. S., and the Freshmen wanting to achieve the honor of at last being upper classmen--this, the second chapter in our life, will always be remembered. Although the faces will fade as the years pass by, our memories will remain forever.

Learning, studying, hard work, the honor student; Best All-Round, an explanation in itself; Personality and friendliness, the Favorites; Good Citizenship and honors, the D.A.R. Award--all these are positions of merit. This is a goal for which to strive--and yet this is not the most vital chapter in our school life, for perhaps the greatest of our students never reach these pages (perhaps they do). This is a chapter to be read with care, that we may profit and learn.

FAIR DAYS IN

Don Harrison, Jailer, and Billy Drushel, Sheriff, seem to have Mr. Leonard, the Principal of High School, in a tough spot. "Wha Hoppened, Mr. Leonard?"

Here are some of the L. H. S. students in their Western Day regalia. As you notice all of these students have on at least three western articles, therefore, they have avoided the penalty of being taken to jail.

The Library Club dramatized a scene from THE ROBE as its entry in the annual School Day Parade.

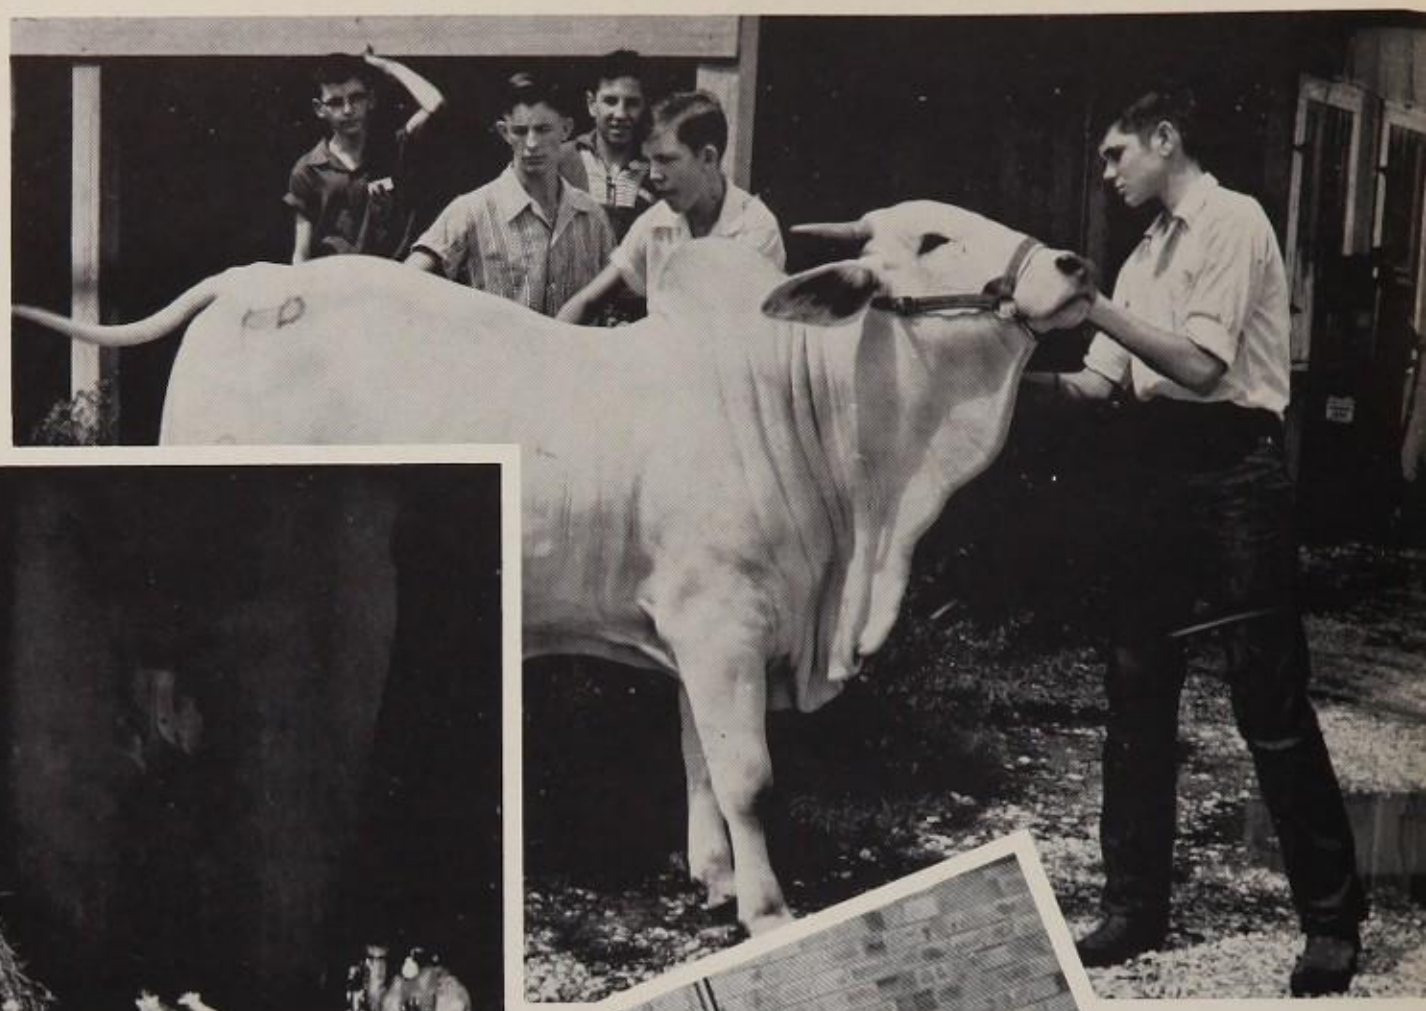
It seems that the cheerleaders are in the middle of a bundle of crepe paper and wind; however, in the end there are no broken bones and the goal posts look very attractive.

At the very last minute Thursday afternoon the cheerleaders are still wondering, "What are we going to do at the pep-rally tomorrow?" But as you can see, they kept their record and had another cute skit.

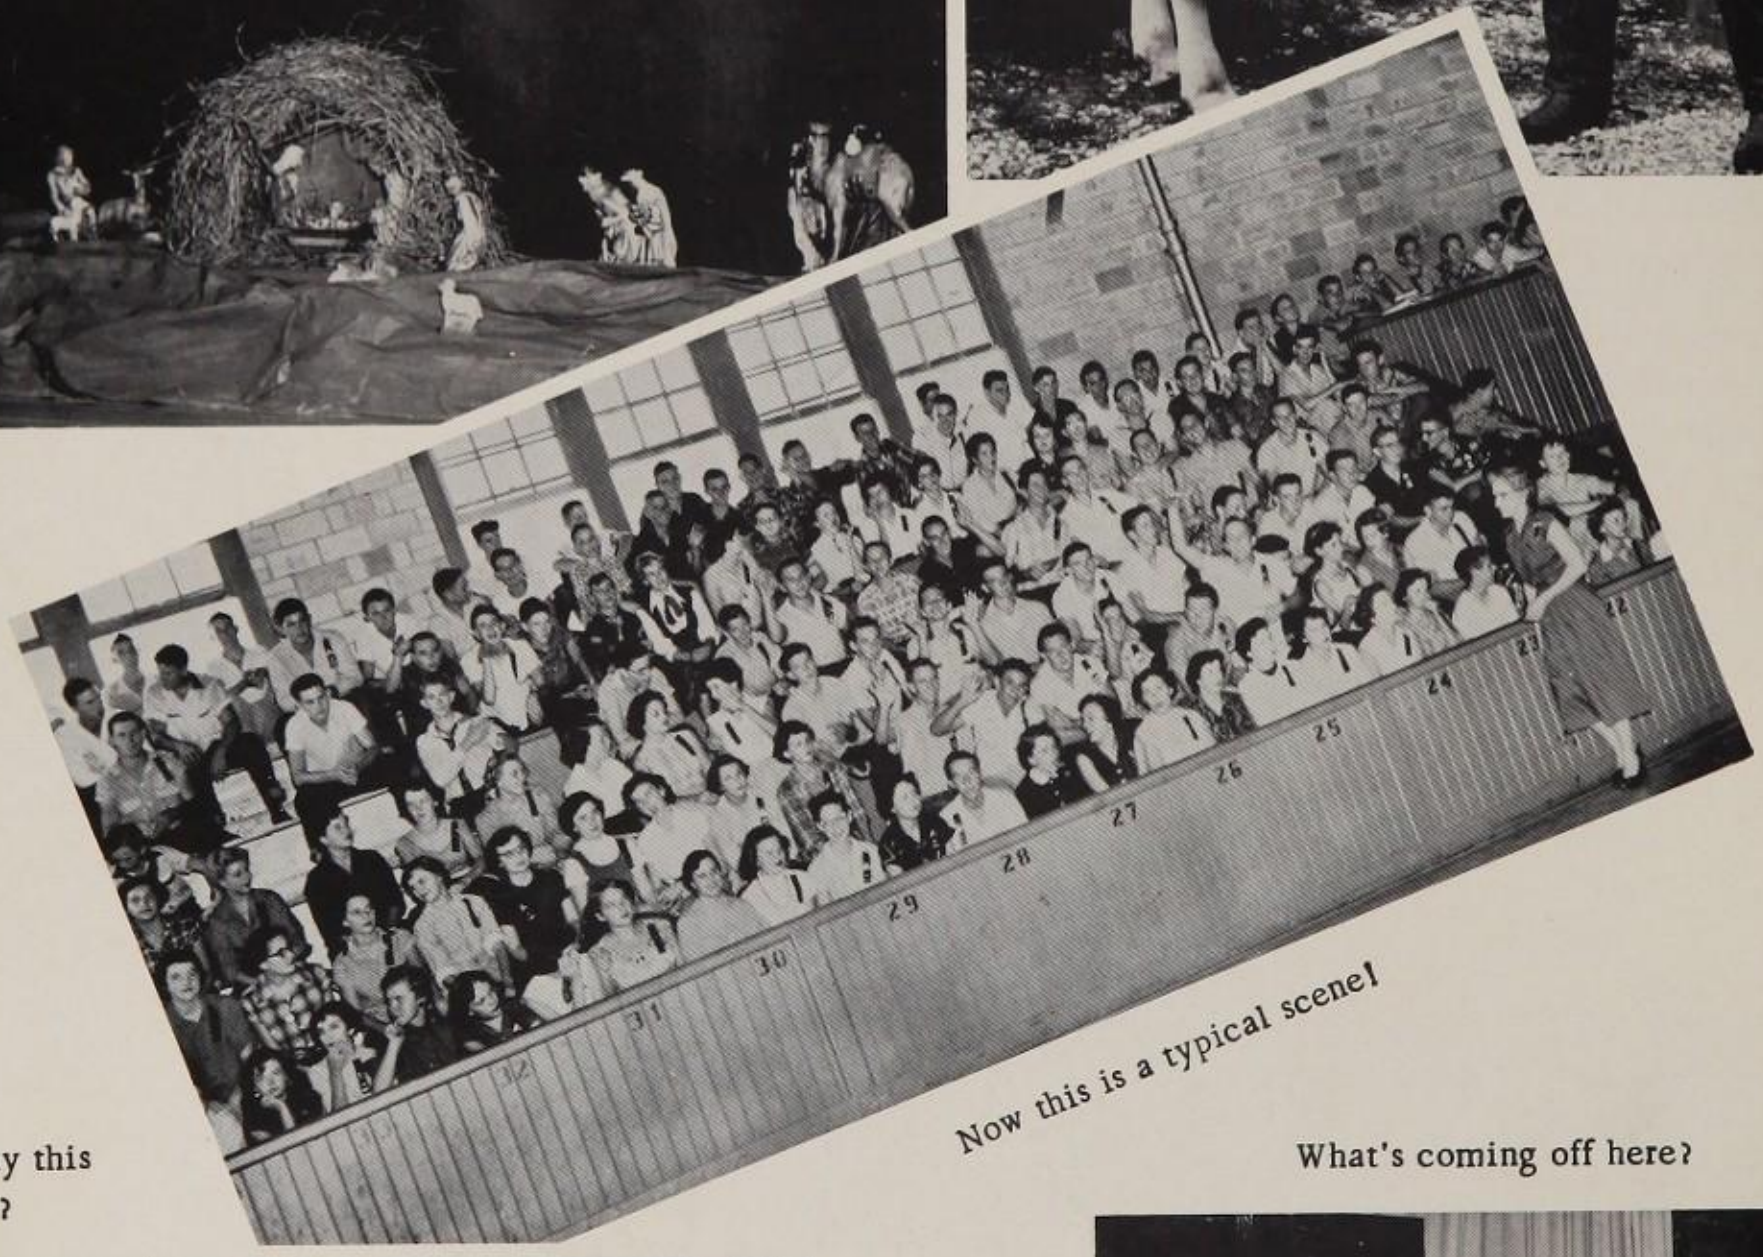
The Pep Squad is pictured here in their new black and gold uniforms, which look very nice. They certainly helped the Cheerleaders in keeping the school spirit in motion all season.

SCENES AROUND

This is what we call a bull session. Don't you?



A true meaning of Christmas.



Now this is a typical scene!

They say this is a cat?

What's coming off here?

LIBERTY HIGH

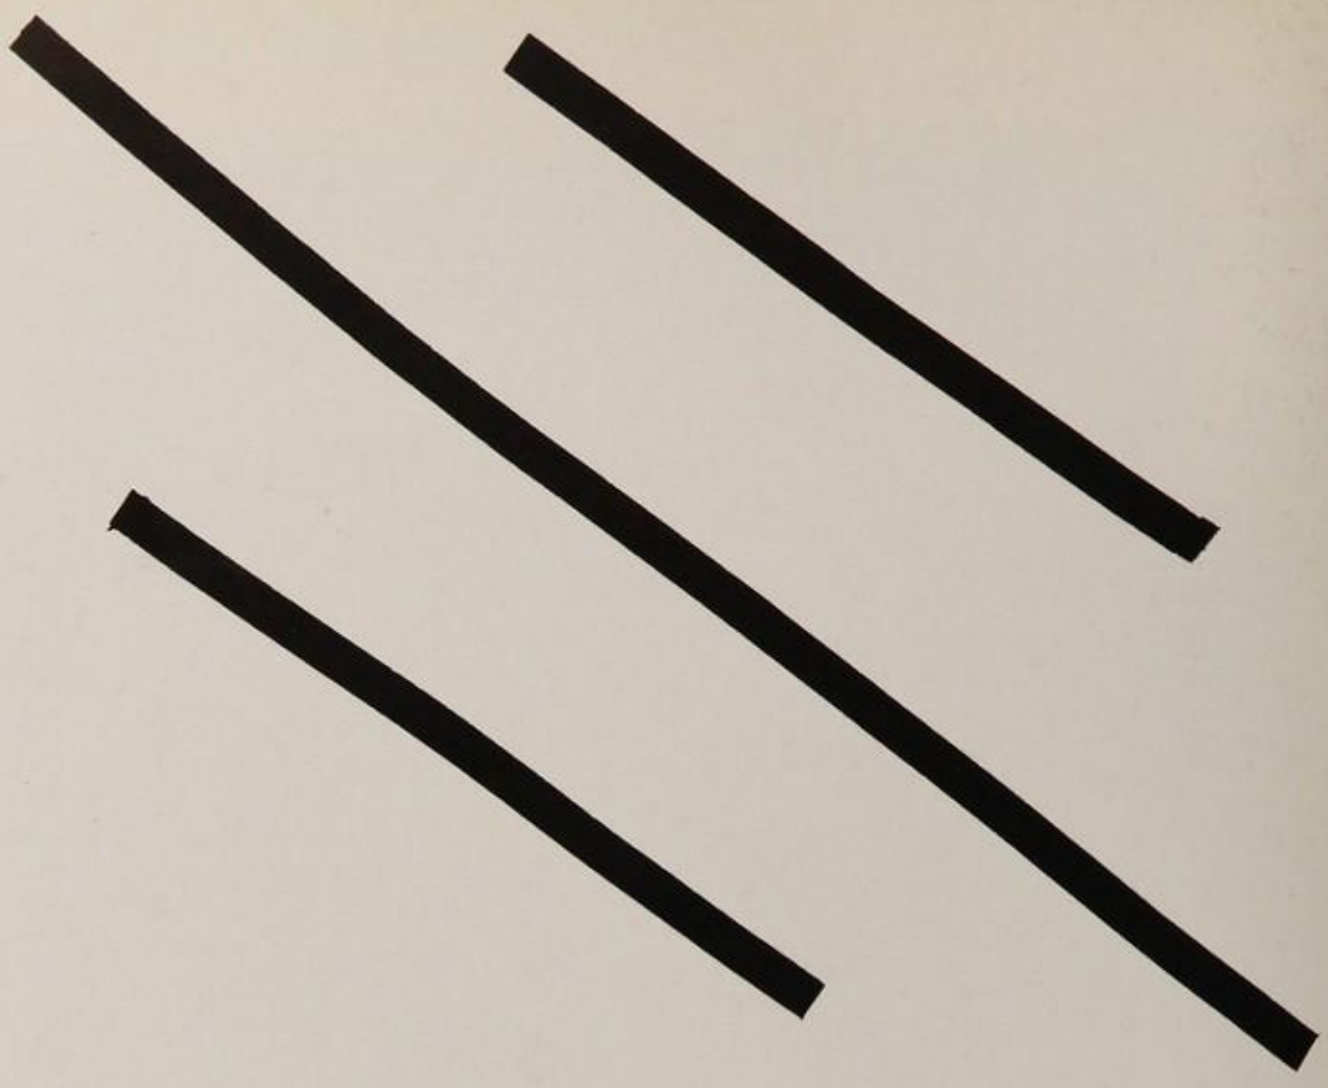
Whose funeral is this?

Money, money, money!

A lively crew!

We did it!

Sounds good!



To learn to win and lose and the meaning of sportsmanship, whether on the sidelines or out on the field--all make this fifth chapter in our life the greatest of all because of the development of giving our best and receiving the satisfaction from it.

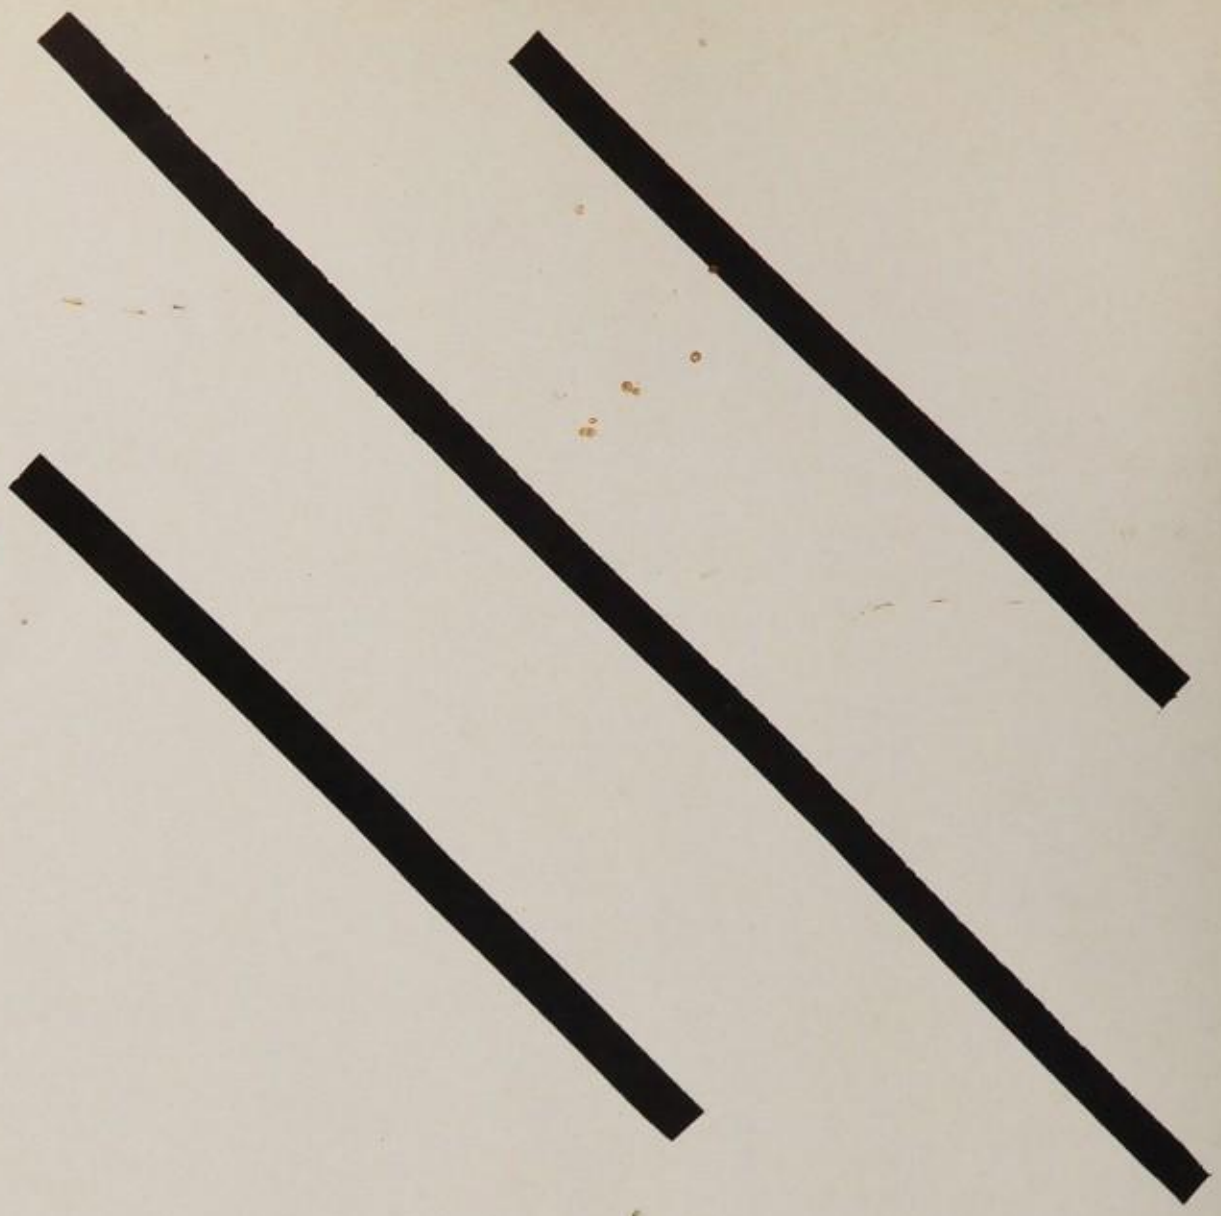
JUNIOR HIGH



Here is where the foundation is laid and the impressions are made for the future. A close teacher-student relationship, reading, writing, and arithmetic, familiar faces of classmates--all this is Junior High--the reference and the footnotes in our book of school life and learning.

PRINCIPAL

To The Harvester Staff:

Popular imagination has ever been stirred by the colorful tales of English voyagers in Elizabethan times--Frobisher, Drake, Raleigh, and their fellows, braving the unknown Atlantic and bringing back precious freight of foreign wealth. No less thrilling are the deeds and activities of the Liberty Public Schools. We, the teachers and students of Liberty Junior High School, are indeed grateful for having been asked to be a part of The 1955 Harvester. We feel that an annual like The Harvester is an asset to our entire school system.

Congratulations on a splendid and worthy accomplishment.

THE MIRACLE OF JEAN THE JUGGLER

The Christmas operetta presented by students of grades five, six, and seven was a highlight in their year's work. In the performance they sang familiar carols such as SILENT NIGHT, GLORIA, and O HOLY NIGHT as well as French carols.

Club meetings with projects and pep rallies showing the wonderful spirit of Liberty Junior High (whether playing on the teams or yelling for them) mean good times and fun. Still we look forward with anticipation yet sorrow to graduation from Junior High. The foundation being made, we look onward to the unknown passages in our new book, High School.

School Activities

LEGISLATURE

The aim of the Legislature is to promote the welfare of the Junior High School student body. Led by Janie Robinson, they make recommendations for equipment needed and for safety precautions in the halls and on the school grounds.

CHORAL CLUB

The Choral Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Vassallo, is a group of selected voices.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club, under the direction of Mr. Green, supervises the activities of the library.

CUB'S CLAW

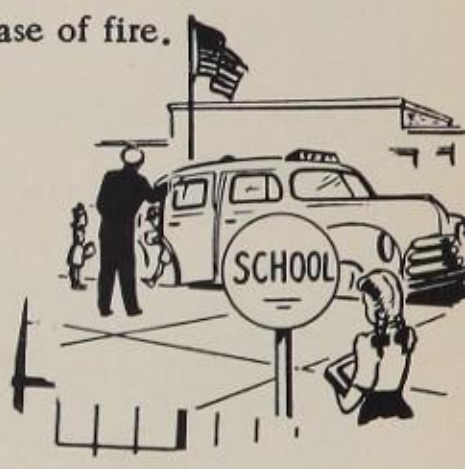
FIRE MARSHALS

These boys are responsible for clearing the building orderly in a fire drill or in case of fire.



SAFETY PATROL

This group directs traffic at busy intersections during the noon rush and after school. They also take care of bicycle safety.

MARCHING

This group of band members under the direction of Mr. Vassallo is working hard toward membership in the Liberty High School Band.

CHEERLEADERS

AMY WATTS - CAROL LEAKE - KYLENE PERRY - JANIE FLORENCE

These girls did a good job of leading the school in yells and encouraging school spirit.

FOOTBALL

Coaches

ROBERT L. SUTHERLIN - JOE M. WESTERFIELD

The Liberty Cubs show by their impressive record with only two losses that they are well suited for the stiff AA competition. The hustle shown by the cubs gives us a preview of our future Panther team.

The fine dress shop, the country store, the corporations, merchants, businessmen--they are all our friends, relatives, and parents as well as the binding of our book of school life. They are the reasons for our good school and all our opportunities. To them we say sincerely, "Thank You."

FRIENDS

"As we grow older, the thing that becomes more and more clear to us is the importance of friendships, and one can conceive of no greater satisfaction than that of conducting himself in such a fashion that he may constantly add to his list of friends, and thereby obtain a fuller measure of life. To live for the most there is in life must mean that we cannot live to ourselves alone. If we wish real success we must work and build together."

There were times we thought we wouldn't,

But we finally got it done,

It took a lot of effort,

But we had a lot of fun.

We hope you like it!!
